History of the Hanymish Team

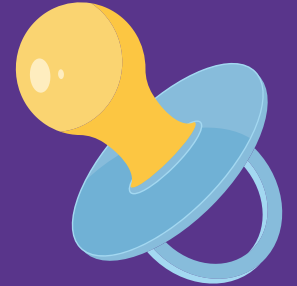

- ♥ The team's most significant achievement was in 1987 when they designed and manufactured Turkey's first domestically produced baby soothers and baby bottles. They continued to grow in this sector every year, successfully producing many products needed for babies using their own production techniques.
- ♥ Their goal was to position themselves as a brand that produces affordable, high-quality baby products for parents and babies in Turkey, rather than relying on expensive imported baby brands, and to provide services accordingly.
- ♥ Over the years, with continuous investments, various products were developed and produced for newborn up to two years old, using special formula designs and following European quality standards in the production process. This team became the first Turkish team to implement TS-EN and EU norms during the production process.
- ♥ The team earned the title of being the first to produce high-quality baby products in Turkey. In 2019, in the light of their extensive experience, they decided to create a baby brand and designed Hanymish baby products offering to the preferences and needs of both babies and mothers.

The Team's Important Experiences in the Baby Products Manufacturing Process"

1987

The first domestic soother was produced using rubber material with round-shaped teat.

1997

Instead of expensive foreign brand baby bottles, locally produced, affordable quality baby bottles were manufactured. The teat was made of rubber, and the body was made from polycarbonate material. The latex soother teat, due to its composition, was not tear-resistant and its sticky surface collected dust from the air, making it unhealthy for baby use.

2001

Soothers began to be produced from silicone material, which is in compliance with European Union quality standards and safe for food use. Orthodontic soother design was specifically created to fit the baby's palate, ensuring comfort and proper development. Additionally, baby bottle nipples made from natural, healthy silicone material were introduced. During this period, a product testing laboratory was also established where products could be tested.

2012

The transition process of European countries to materials free from BPA, such as polycarbonate, to Polipropilen material was followed machines were upgraded to accommodate this new material, and as a result, BPA-free baby bottles began to be produced.

♥ SOOTHERS

Your baby feels safe and peaceful...

Hanymish soothers make babies feel happy and secure. Babies can satisfy their natural sucking instinct with a soother, aside from feeding. This helps them calm down and sleep comfortably. Using a soother soothes them and helps prevent future thumb-sucking behavior. At Hanymish, we have designed orthodontic soothers that do not harm your baby's palate while using them.

These soothers support the development of the palate and teeth, and their design is in harmony with your baby's sucking movement.
